St. Vincent de Paul Society

Today, We Celebrate The Second Sunday of Easter!

"Peace be with you."

As we mingle and greet our family and friends today, and chat about the spring weather, Jesus speaks to us, "Peace be with you." Peace is a hard commodity to come by these days. The news is full of hate and injustice. Sometimes it is even hard to find peace within your own families. Here is an after-Easter thought: The next time you see someone who looks a little depressed, a little shabby, looking down on life, try to make eye contact with them and say hello to them. Simply recognize them as a human being Equal-To-You in the eyes of God, and then give them a smile.

You may have just made their day, and brought a little more peace into this troubled world.

Happy Easter!

Thank You & God Bless You, Paul Novotny

Dear Parish Family,

Blessed Easter to you all on this Divine Mercy Sunday! The Lord is Risen! Risen indeed!

This Divine Mercy is nothing other than God’s refusal to leave us alone in our own broken humanity; God’s refusal to leave us in our pain and suffering. God’s love for us is so strong that He is willing to suffer for our sake.

Divine Mercy is all about a deep and profound longing to help the beloved; a total willingness to reach down to our level, to embrace us, help us, and raise us up. Divine Mercy is not meant to be confused with a cheap sense of compassion for us or another type of broken love. It is a strong desire to love and restore the brokenness of the beloved. It is a willingness to stay close to the sufferings of the beloved for the sake of consoling, and to give courage and lift us up with His grace.

The first reading from the Acts of the Apostles tells us the stories of all the miracles, signs, and wonders that the apostles were able to do in Jesus’ name. “...Thus they even carried the sick out in to the streets and laid them on cots and mats so that when Peter came by, at least his shadow might fall on one or another of them... bringing the sick and those disturbed by unclean spirits, and they were all cured” (Acts 5:12-16).

Let us reflect on this scenery. Stop, pray, and imagine all these sick and possessed coming to Peter and the rest of the Apostles. Imagine their sufferings, sadness, despair, and their longing to be healed! In the midst of their chaos and illnesses, order, healing, and joy come to them. From suffering to joy, chaos to order, struggles to rejoicing – this is what happens when we let ourselves be touched by the love and the mercy of God! What those ill and possessed experienced with the Apostles is what God desires to do with our hearts and souls!

This Divine Mercy Sunday the Father desires that we too bring our illnesses, poverty, and sufferings to Him, that we might be healed by His Divine Mercy. The mere thought and shadow of His mercy is enough for us to be healed.

The Father refuses to leave us alone in our own illnesses and struggles. He longs to come and help us. This is what mercy is all about. The heart of Jesus is burning with love, compassion, and mercy for us because He wants to help, restore, and embrace us.

Ponder the tremendous joy of those who were healed. That same joy and ecstasy of gladness is what the Father desires for you. Let us bring our disorders to the grace and the mercy of the Lord so that we too may be healed. God refuses to leave you and I alone in our struggles. That is Divine Mercy at its greatest height.

Estimada Familia Parroquial,

¡Benedicida Pascua para todos ustedes en este Domingo de la Divina Misericordia!

¡El Señor ha Resucitado!

¡En verdad resucito!

¡La Divina Misericordia es el reuso de Dios a dejarnos solos en nuestra propia humanidad quebrantada! ¡Dios se rehúsa a dejarnos solos en nuestro dolor y sufrimiento! El amor de Dios por nosotros es tan fuerte que está dispuesto a sufrir por nosotros, como lo acabamos de meditar en Semana Santa.

La Divina Misericordia tiene que ver con un profundo anhelo de ayudar al amado. Una disponibilidad total para bajar a nuestro nivel, abrazarnos, ayudarnos y levantarnos.

La misericordia divina no debe confundirse con un sentido barato de compasión por nosotros u otro tipo de amor roto. Es un fuerte deseo de amar y restaurar el sufrimiento del amado. ¡Es una disposición a estar cerca de los sufrimientos del amado para consolarnos, y para darnos coraje, valentía y levantarnos con su gracia!

La primera lectura de los Hechos de los Apóstoles nos cuenta las historias de todos los milagros, señales y prodigios que los apóstoles hacían en el nombre de Jesús. “... sacaban a los enfermos a las calles y los ponían sobre literas y camillas, para que cuando Pedro pasara, al menos su sombra cayera sobre uno u otro de ellos... llevaban a los enfermos y a los poseídos por espíritus malignos, y todos quedaron curados” (Hechos 5:12-16).

Reflexionemos sobre este paisaje. Deténgase, ore e imaginé a todos estos enfermos y poseídos viniendo a Pedro y al resto de los Apóstoles. ¡Imagínense sus sufrimientos, tristezas, desesperación y su anhelo de ser sanados!

En medio de su caos y enfermedades, el orden, la sanación y la alegría llenan su corazón. Del sufrimiento al gozo, del caos al orden, de los estragos al gozo, ¡esto sucede cuando nos dejamos tocar por el amor y la misericordia de Dios! ¡Lo que aquellos enfermos y poseídos experimentaron con los apóstoles, es lo que Dios desea hacer con nuestros corazones y almas!

Este Domingo de la Divina Misericordia, el Padre celestial desea que nosotros también llevemos nuestras enfermedades, pobrezas y sufrimientos a Él para que nos sane por Su divina misericordia. El mero pensamiento, la sombra de Su misericordia es suficiente para que seamos sanados.

El Padre se niega a dejarnos solos en nuestras propias enfermedades y estragos. Él anhela venir y ayudarnos. De esto se trata la misericordia. El corazón de Jesús arde de amor, compasión y misericordia por nosotros porque quiere ayudarnos, restaurarnos y abrazarnos. Reflexionemos sobre el tremendo gozo de los que fueron sanados. Ese mismo gozo y éxtasis de alegría es lo que el Padre desea para nosotros. Llevemos nuestros desórdenes a la gracia y la misericordia del Señor para que también nosotros seamos sanados. Dios se niega a dejarte a ti y a mí solos en nuestras luchas. Esa es la misericordia Divina en su máxima expresión.

En Cristo,

P. José
