Society of St. Vincent de Paul

In the Gospel today, Jesus talks about how hard it is to cleanse your heart, because "from your hearts come evil thoughts". And the assumption here is that He is talking about you and me and everyone, unless you want to kid yourself. Rich people, poor people, important people, and people not so important. So how do we overcome these evil thoughts. We need to look at the way we live and how we handle ourselves and this will show us the way to turn our hearts to God. Do we praise people of good will? Do we try to respect others? Do we try to be patient and helpful to our friends and family and not be judgmental. Try to think and act like Jesus. Sometimes you only need to change a few words. Instead of saying "If only I wasn't so busy", say "What if I found the time". It just might work for

Dear Parish Family,

Praised be the Father of Our Lord Jesus Christ who is always attentive to the needs of His children!

In the first reading this weekend (Deut 4:6-8) we discover that the Father gives us commandments and precepts to follow. If we follow them carefully, we'll give evidence of wisdom and intelligence to the world. Our Father is literally telling us that if we obey Him, we'll be wise and intelligent. The commandments of God and the precepts of the Church are not hoops to jump through, nor a bunch of rules to oppress and crush people! The commandments of the Lord are statements of love through which the Father tells us, I love you and I want to protect you from the misery of sin and death!

These commandments of love, challenging though they may be, are ways to draw the beloved child to a close and intimate union with the Father. Obedience to the Father requires trust that what He has in mind for us is good, life-giving, and fulfilling! This is why the Lord tells us that if we obey Him we'll be wise and intelligent; filled with life, peace, joy, and the love of God in our souls. The union with God leads us to receive in abundance not only the attributes of God but God Himself in all His wisdom!

Jesus, in the Gospel, reminds us that what defiles man comes from within the heart, rather than from outside (Mk 7: 1-23). What rots the heart is evil thoughts, unchastity, theft, murder, adultery, greed, malice, deceit, envy, and arrogance – among many other things. All of this sorrow and defilement could be avoided if we would turn to the Lord in prayer and listen to Him! It is from all this misery that the Father wants to save us if we would do His will. Anyone truly wise and intelligent wouldn't let their hearts be defiled with this type of sin. May we turn to the Lord and be obedient to His love. Only then will we not only be wise and intelligent, but also be at peace, filled with joy and the love of the Father.

In His Most Sacred Heart,
Fr. José

KIDS Corner

Estimada Familia Parroquial,

¡Alabado sea el Padre de Nuestro Señor Jesucristo que está siempre atento a las necesidades de Sus hijos!

En la primera lectura de este fin de semana (Deuteronomio 4:6-8) descubrimos que el Padre nos da mandamientos y preceptos a seguir. Si los seguimos cuidadosamente, daremos evidencia de sabiduría e inteligencia al mundo. Nuestro Padre literalmente nos está diciendo que si le obedecemos, seremos sabios e inteligentes. ¡Los mandamientos de Dios y los preceptos de la Iglesia no son obstáculos que hay que saltar, ni un montón de reglas para oprimir y aplastar a la gente! Los mandamientos del Señor son declaraciones de amor a través de las cuales el Padre nos dice: ¡Te amo y quiero protegerte de la miseria del pecado y de la muerte!

Estos mandamientos de amor, por desafiantes que sean, son formas de atraer al hijo amado a una unión estrecha e íntima con el Padre. ¡La obediencia al Padre requiere confianza en que lo que Él tiene en mente para nosotros es bueno, vivificante y satisfactorio! Por eso el Señor nos dice que si le obedecemos seremos sabios e inteligentes; llenos de vida, paz, alegría y el amor de Dios en nuestras almas. ¡La unión con Dios nos lleva a recibir en abundancia no sólo los atributos de Dios sino también a Dios mismo en toda Su sabiduría!

Jesús, en el Evangelio, nos recuerda que lo que contamina al hombre viene de dentro del corazón, más que de fuera (Mc 7, 1-23). Lo que pudre el corazón son los malos pensamientos, la falta de castidad, el robo, el asesinato, el adulterio, la avaricia, la malicia, el engaño, la envidia y la arrogancia, entre muchas otras cosas. ¡Todo este dolor y contaminación podrían evitarse si nos volviéramos al Señor en oración y lo escucháramos! Es de toda esta miseria de la que el Padre quiere salvarnos si hacemos su voluntad. Cualquiera verdaderamente sabio e inteligente no permitiría que su corazón se contamina con este tipo de pecado. Que volvamos al Señor y seamos obedientes a su amor. Sólo así no sólo seremos sabios e inteligentes, sino también estaremos en paz, llenos de alegría y del amor del Padre.

En Su Sacratísimo Corazón,
P. José
